

PROJECT DELIVERABLES:

- Formation of nation-wide ad hoc committee under the auspices of the Graduate Career Consortium.
- Development of 16 “job families” to encompass many of the career possibilities for humanities and social sciences PhDs.
- Creation of skills, interests, and values assessments focusing on the needs of humanities and social sciences PhDs.
- Completion of experts’ survey to analyze the importance of the skills and interests in relationship to the 16 job families.
- Commencement of site production on October 15, 2016.
- Sponsorship development campaign resulting of approximately $200,000 in funding.
- Development of marketing materials to promote project.
- Creation and curation of career resources.
- Pre-Launch for Sponsoring Institutions – October 9, 2017.
- Site launch for all – October 23, 2017.